An opportunity to lend at a conservative 14% loan-to-value against a seasoned portfolio managed by a well-established name in upper-middle-market buyouts.

The Opportunity

Meridian Park has been engaged by Silverhawk Capital Partners ("Silverhawk"), a New York-based buyout firm managing approximately US$2.1 billion, to arrange a US$35.0 million term facility for Silverhawk Capital Partners Fund IV, L.P., a 2018-vintage fund with US$850 million of commitments. The facility will be secured by a pledge of the Fund's interests in its four remaining portfolio companies, which carry an aggregate net asset value of US$250.0 million. That puts the loan-to-value at close at just 14.0%, one of the more conservative attachment points we have brought to market this year. Proceeds will fund a one-time distribution to the Fund's limited partners ahead of portfolio realizations, a use of proceeds that Silverhawk's investors have supported.

Why Silverhawk

Founded in 2005, Silverhawk has long-standing institutional relationships and a senior team that has invested together for over fifteen years. Its realized track record is strong. Fund II (2012, US$450 million) delivered a 19.2% net IRR and returned 2.4x investors' capital in full. Fund III (2015, US$700 million) stands at a 16.1% net IRR and 2.0x TVPI, of which 1.1x has been distributed to date, with the balance held across a maturing portfolio. Fund IV, the borrower, is marked at 1.7x TVPI with a 17.5% net IRR and has already returned 1.4x DPI, on the back of nine completed exits that generated US$1,190 million of proceeds against US$795 million of cumulative invested capital. All figures are net of fees and as of March 31, 2026.

The Portfolio

Fund IV's remaining value is concentrated in Corvid Health Partners, a healthcare services platform in which the Fund holds an 80% fully diluted stake. Corvid generated revenue of US$195.0 million and EBITDA of US$25.0 million, and carries net debt of US$62.5 million against an enterprise value of US$225.0 million. The Fund's stake is held at US$130.0 million, or 52% of portfolio NAV.

The Fund also wholly owns TransLoop Logistics, a dedicated-fleet transportation business with an enterprise value of US$95.0 million and net debt of US$40.0 million (Fund value: US$55.0 million). Because its owned fleet is depreciation-intensive, TransLoop reports EBIT rather than EBITDA; it generated US$240.0 million of revenue and US$14.0 million of EBIT in the period.

The remaining two positions are Merrow Industrial Coatings, a specialty industrials business (64% owned; revenue US$88.0 million; EBITDA US$12.0 million; net debt US$27.5 million; enterprise value US$90.0 million; Fund value US$40.0 million), and Pallas Data Services, a tech-enabled services provider (50% owned; revenue US$45.0 million; EBITDA US$7.5 million; net debt US$10.0 million; enterprise value US$60.0 million; Fund value US$25.0 million). Portfolio company figures are as of September 30, 2025, per the Fund's most

Indicative Terms

Silverhawk is seeking a single financing partner for the full US$35.0 million commitment. The facility carries a fixed coupon of 9.75% per annum, cash pay, plus a 2.00% closing fee, a three-year term, and prepayment flexibility at any time after month twelve without penalty. Security is a pledge of the Fund's interests in the portfolio company holding vehicles, with distributions swept to a controlled account, customary LTV-based covenant protections, and New York governing law.

Why We Believe This Is Compelling

- A 14.0% attachment point, with US$215 million of value cushion between the lender and any impairment.
- A well-known sponsor with a fully realized 2.4x fund and nine exits already completed in the borrower vehicle.
- Straightforward economics: a fixed 9.75% cash coupon and a 2.00% closing fee, with no structural complexity.
- A three-year term matched to the maturity of a seasoned, late-life portfolio.

Next Steps

Indications of interest are requested within three weeks of receipt. The data room, which includes portfolio company financial detail, valuation support, and fund documentation, will be made available upon execution of an NDA. We would be glad to arrange a call with the Silverhawk team.
